

KISSINGER CANCELS

Not By M. Philip Iverson

Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, renowned diplomat and next guest speaker in the Loyola College lecture series, "A World in Perspective: A Look at the '80's," today revealed in an exclusive interview with the Loyola Greyhound, that he has cancelled his scheduled appearance in protest over the mistreatment of the school's neighboring communities, Guilford, Radnor-Winston, and Kernwood.

The Georgetown University professor cited that the undue expansion of the college into some of the oldest and most prestigious communities in Baltimore is a poignant example of the destruction of the social class system of Western civilization.

"Living in the prestigious section of Georgetown, Washington D.C., I can sympathize with the Guilford neighbors." He noted that besides obviously lowering the area's property values and destroying the social exclusivity of the community with "commoners," the expansion exemplified an even more serious sociological problem.

"By infiltrating the area," spoke Mr. Kissinger with thinly veiled repugnance, "college students, Loyola is exposing a heretofore unravished community to the immoral practices of the students' decadent culture. The presence of beer bottles, drunken, carousing students, heavy traffic of their sooped-up vehicles gives witness to the cultural damage they inflict on the families and property of these virgin communities."

The professor further explained that cancelling his speaking engagement will serve a two fold purpose. First, this action will necessarily call witness to the plight of these beleaguered communities. Secondly, Kissinger stated, "By the time the administration refunds all the ticket sales, Sellinger and his crew will be set back a couple hundred thousand for their latest capital campaign. In this way, I have made my contribution to the prevention of Loyola's cancerous growth."

The reverend Joseph A. Sellinger, S.J. President of Loyola College was unavailable for comment.

However, MacBarrett, alumni director and coordinator of the Perspective series announced late today that Loyola would still hold the lecture tonight as scheduled. Schelle explained that Fr. Sellinger was originally proposed as the substitute speaker, but there was not enough time to properly coach him on the text of his speech.

Consequently, Mr. Dave Fried, Director of the Student Center, has volunteered his services and plans to give, as Mr. Schelle disclosed, "an exciting expose on the recurrence of poster vandalism in the student center."

Mr. Schelle reiterated that the lecture will be held as scheduled in the Andrew White Student Center gymnasium at 8 p.m. and all tickets for the Kissinger lecture will be honored.

Dr. Henry Kissinger calls witness to the plight of oppressed upper-class neighborhoods, cancels Loyola speaking engagement in a gesture of protest.

Dave Fried loses face

Not By Lauren Somody

Just call Dave Fried the faceless man.

In a slip of the mind that is certainly without precedent in the annals of recent Loyola history, Director of the Student Center, Dave Fried, has lost his face.

"It was the weirdest thing," contemplated Mr. Fried. "I know I was using it yesterday afternoon during the Sid Finster lecture, and I'm pretty sure I had it on this morning while I was driving to school. In fact, I didn't really notice it was missing until about an hour ago in my office. I was getting up to check out some things in the bookstore when I noticed that I couldn't see the door—in fact, I couldn't see anything. I went to call for my secretary, and was somewhat shocked to find I couldn't speak either. It was 15 minutes before I managed to stumble out of my office and into Dean Ruff's. He wasted no time in figuring out my problem, and we're doing everything possible to get it back."

Obviously, lacking a face is already causing some difficulties for both Mr. Fried and his staff. Being without eyes, Mr. Fried must be assisted wherever he wishes to go. (Mr. Fried voiced anger over the fact that many of the secretaries in the Student Center have been purposely guiding him into walls, doors, and out windows). Since his mouth is gone, Mr. Fried must write down all communications—and since his eyes are gone, his handwriting has been erratic at best. (Mr. Fried again expressed anger over the practical jokes of his associates. "They've had me sign the back of my own hand, a cactus, some poor guy's buttocks; it's getting ridiculous.")

"But," assures the Student Center czar, "I will not allow this to interfere with my duties." Already, a German Shepherd dog has been trained especially to sniffout illegally placed notices on the student walls and to lick off graffiti. If this unfortunate situation should continue, further measures will certainly be implemented, assured Dean Ruff.

At least in the eyes (or whatever) of Mr. Fried, though, this whole affair may bring unexpectedly fortuitous results. "This will give me a chance to test my new, ingenious lost-and-found system. I've already filled out one of my neat little cards, describing my lost face. Now, if someone should find it and turn in a neat little card stating that fact along with a description of the face, we'll just match the two up and, wham—face returned."

"You see, all you have to do is take one of these pink cards, and then look through these little blue cards, and then you...

At this point, the frog Mr. Fried had been writing on hopped away, amidst a general uproar from Dean Yanchik and his secretarial staff.

Dave Fried, Loyola's Man-Without-A-Face: "This will give me a chance to test my nifty new lost-and-found system."

Tiegs to appear Tiegs to lecture?

Not By Joanne M. Ferchland

Cheryl Tiegs, world renowned pretty face and expert on Sino-Soviet relations, has just been added to the list of distinguished figures who will be appearing as part of Loyola College's World Perspectives: A Look At The Eighties lecture series. Her appearance has been set for Friday, May 16 at 8 p.m.

Mac Barrett, Loyola's lecture series czar, made the announcement late yesterday afternoon, explaining, "Since Barbara Walters was so great, we decided it would be worthwhile to get Cheryl. We realize she doesn't lecture very often, but decided to ask her anyway. She just has so much to say."

Mr. Barrett added that, while Ms. Tiegs expressed reluctance initially at his suggestion to speak at Loyola, the recent resurgence of cold war-like relations between nations of the world convinced her of the need for her views and insights to be expressed in a public forum, and Loyola was fortunate in being the first institute of higher education to request her services.

Even before it was officially announced that Ms. Tiegs would appear, students began camping out in the Student Union, waiting for tickets. It is rumored that someone in the Public Relations Department leaked the information. (The Greyhound would like to take this opportunity to flatly deny that we were the source of the news leak age, and to assure all parties that it was mere coincidence which placed Editor-in-Chief Chris Kaltenbach and Features Editor Bill O'Brien on the steps outside the Student Center at 5 A.M. the morning of the 27th.)

She is just so deep, so well-rounded," one student commented. "I just have to see her."

To no one's surprise. Tickets for the lecture sold out in less than two hours. Consequently in order to meet the demand for more tickets, an additional 250 will be sold. There will also be a limited number of standing room admissions sold.

contd. pg. 4

News Briefs

Rugby player injured

A certain RA who plays women's rugby recently sprained her wrist . . . playing the piano.

Coup d'etat?

The campus will be invaded by the ROTC battallion Monday morning at 9:30.

Sellinger's collar in ring

Moving on to bigger and better things, Father Sellinger recently announced his candidacy for the Presidency of the United States.

Scheye astonished

Dr. Scheye was surprised to read in last week's Greyhound that he had been named Teacher of the year, especially since this year's announcement had not been made yet.

Firing squad assembled

In an addendum to her syllabus, Mrs. Abromaitis made it clear that all students entering her class late will be shot on sight. Those not attending will be forced to sit through a special three hour session of "Introduction to Paragraph Writing."

McCormick stands firm

Dr. McCormick has placed an ultimatum before the Russians: if they do not pull out of Afghanistan by the beginning of next semester, he will not lead his annual tour.

SAGA alters menu

Mr. Ron Stagenhorst, head of SAGA foods, has announced to Loyola resident students that he plans to change from Alpo Distributing Co. to Dukes Grain and Feed Shop located in Westminster in a gesture of economy. Mr. John Smith of the FDA observed, "Actually the quality of the food will be properly prepared instead of added haphazardly at the last moment."

Butcher details circumcision

Dr. Henry Butcher will give a lecture series on Biological Masochism as a requirement for the pre-med major.

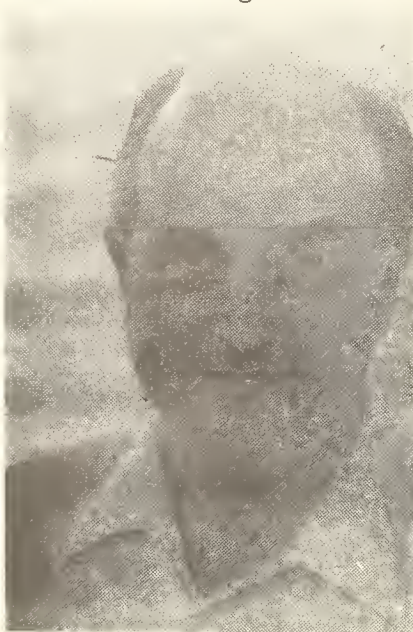

The first lecture in the series, entitled "How to Prepare Oneself for Circumcision," will be held in rm. 206 of the Donnelly Science Center, Tuesday, April 2 at 8 p.m.

Rat and Carter ally

In order not to fall behind President Carter's wage and price guidelines, the Rat has announced a fifty percent increase across the board.

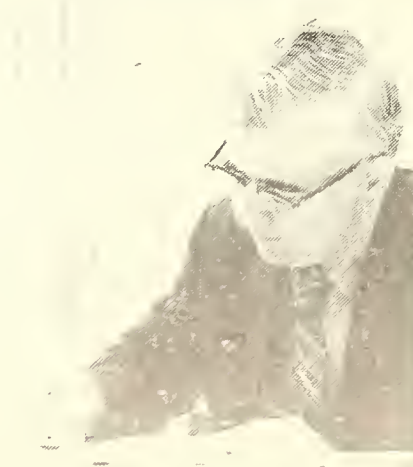

Sr. Jeremy Daigler, R.S.M. reads Mark Rosasco's latest column at a recent Campus Ministries meeting.

Dr. Hans Mair, demonstrating how he hypnotized the Teacher of the Year Committee into voting him the award.

Not Michael White

Dean Francis J. McGuire: Before Grecian Formula.

Fruit of the Loom and Kitchin too

In an amicus curiae brief filed jointly by Dr. Bill Kitchin of the History/Political Science Department and the Fruit of the Loom Underwear Company, they disclosed their hot new line of Supreme Court Briefs. Made of comfortable, 100% cotton with superelastic voting blocks, and highly readable black and blue ink, these briefs are guaranteed to last, to be easily classifiable and to support all conclusions of Dr. Kitchin's forthcoming Supreme Court analysis.

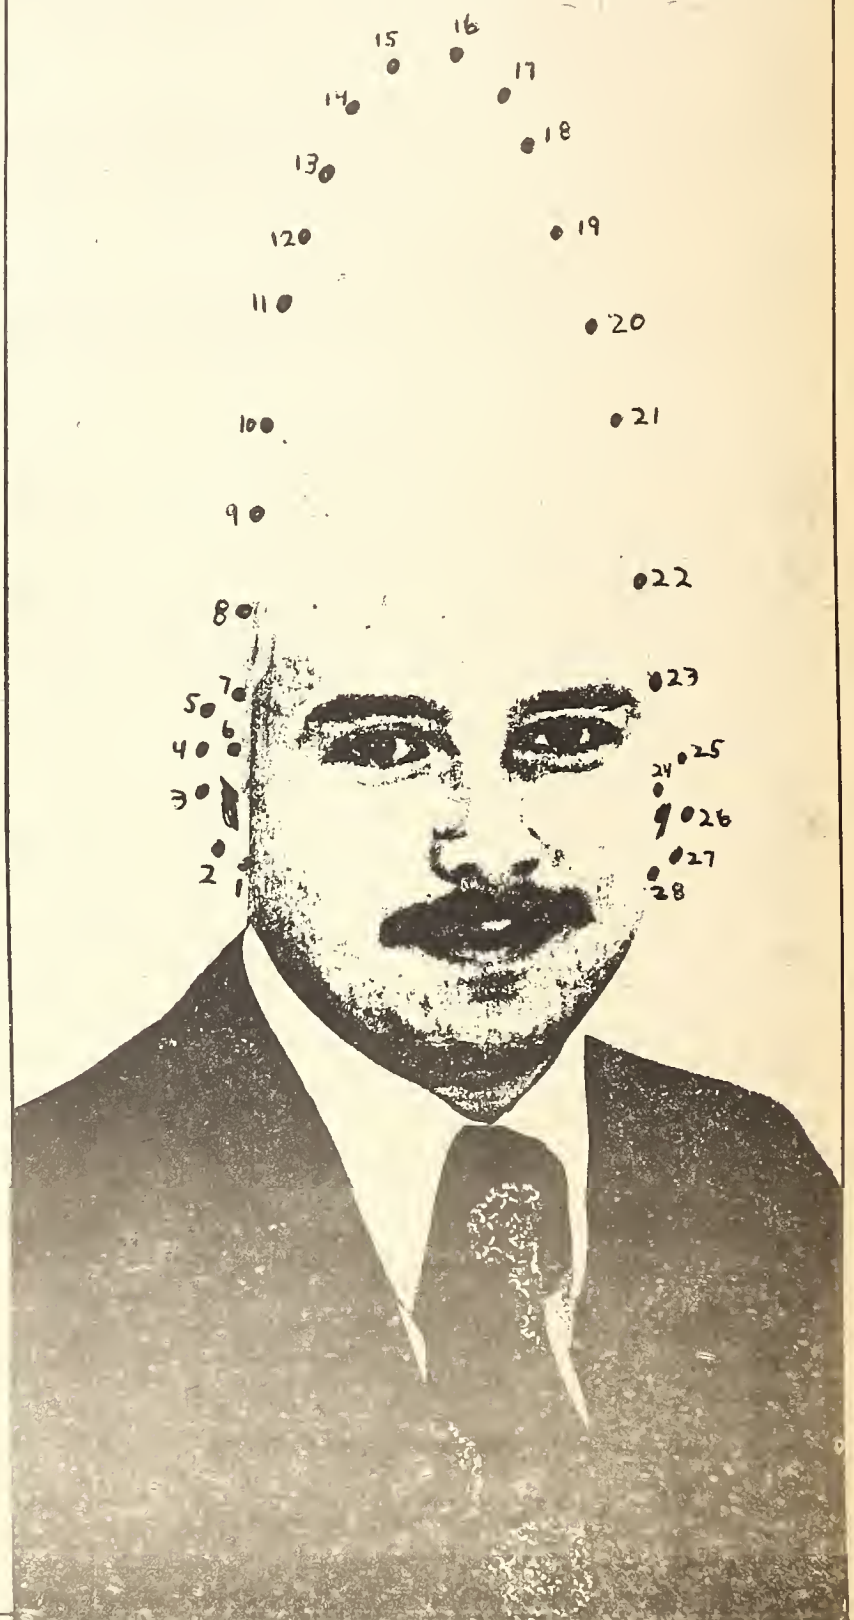

Lidston flashes

NEWS FLASH!! Dr. Robert Lidston was seen in the GREYHOUND office last week.

Mair recognizes Greyhound

Dr. Hans Mair recently decided that all current events test questions will come from the Greyhound in the future instead of the New York Times.

Dot to dot your dean

Presenting ...

Associated

Snobs of

Loyola

College

in a

F R E A K S H O W

featuring...

Joe Jugielski

Marcus Revelius

and

Kevin Michenob

Admission: $100.00 and anyone's ID
All you can eat and drink—
(and smoke!!)

Editor-in-chief Kaltenbach tries to implement five-phase plan to increase GREYHOUND staff with unwilling Op/Ed editor Lauren Somody.

Greyhound to pool genes

Not By Bill O'Brien

Sometimes the exigencies of a situation can force one into doing things that, normally, wouldn't even be honored with consideration.

Next year, unless replacements for this year's staff are found, The Greyhound will find itself in the midst of a major crisis. It has become evident that, of the eight members of the Greyhound editorial staff, only two are definitely returning. These two staffers—Editor-in-chief Chris Kaltenbach and Editorial Page Editor Lauren Somody, may not have any reason to come back, unless replacements are found and found quickly.

Unable to do much about next year's unfortunate situation, but with an eye towards future generation, editor Kaltenbach has come up with an ingenious plan for replacing the departing staff members — a plan which will take a minimum of sixteen years to complete.

At a press conference held Tuesday morning, editors Kaltenbach and Somody outlined the plan for reporters. As outlined, the plan contains five steps:

- 1) All current staff members will be gathered into one room.
- 2) The door to this room will be locked; intermingling and small talk among the staff members will be encouraged.

- 3) This current, talented, and efficient staff will be left alone in order to produce a suitable number of offspring that will be as great (if not, through natural selection, better than) the present generation.
- 4) When the process of procreatin is completed, and enough offspring have been produced, the primary staff will be allowed to leave, whereupon the newly-begotten staff will be brought up on a steady diet of layout procedures and hearty news leads.

- 5) After a gestation period of fifteen-sixteen years, the new staff will emerge to carry on in the greatest of Greyhound traditions.

Editor Kaltenbach concluded the meeting by pointing out that, "This plan, although tedious, guarantees an efficient editorial staff. And, I can't help but feel that it will serve to bring the present staff closer together."

Added Ms. Somody, "And it will certainly take away the burdens of maintaining an active social life, thus giving us all more time to put out a superior product."

Tiegs to appear at Loyola

from pg. 1

Already, ticket scalpers, whose invasion of the campus has created quite a stir, are hard at work. Mobs of students are reportedly flocking round them, crying out for tickets — which some of the scalpers are selling for as much as $150 apiece.

"The enthusiasm has been so great," a college official stated. "This event proves again the concern that today's college students have for what goes on in their world — just think what the response will be for Brinkley and Ford!"

Because of the additional ticket sales, parking may be a problem. "But," assures Mr. Barrett, "we have that all figured out. If we run into an congestion, we will announce to those gathered in the gym that there will be a shuttle bus service running between here and the drive-ways of selected Guilford residents, just as we did at the Walters lecture."

An advancement for Ms. Tiegs, currently at Loyola in order to encourage support for her appearance, emphasized, "Cheryl is so excited to be coming to Loyola... I mean a real college! She hasn't appeared at one of those since first semester of her freshman year. In fact, she's so excited that she cancelled her next two commercials in order to better prepare for the lecture."

The beautiful, sharp, intelligent, witty, and scholarly model and adjunct Professor of Political Science at Harvard University will speak on "How I, the Chinese, and The Soviets have shaped the world of today." Ms. Tiegs will have no script. "She can memorize," stated her spokesman.

Ms. Tiegs' bikini will be a vibrant pink.

Her talk is expected to last about fifteen minutes, with the remaining time devoted to questions. Following this, as an added treat, Ms. Tiegs will present a short fashion show, modelling the latest summer fashions. "The fashion show will be for those in the audience who aren't interested in in-depth lectures," explained her spokesman. "We want to please everyone."

In addition, there will be a reception after the fashion show, to which everyone is invited. "Cheryl loves people," rationalized her spokesman.

Prior to the lecture, there will be a photo session with Cheryl for anyone interested. The session should last about an hour.

Ms. Tiegs and her entourage of appr. 20 people — including her make-up man, wardrobe assistant, photographer, tutor, and numerous body guards — will arrive at the Andrew White Student Center at 11 a.m. The eight hours between her arrival and her photo session will be spent in preparing for her big appearance.

"Cheryl loves people," reiterated her spokesman.

DeMarco and Dummy:

Who is who?

by Vesta Kimble

In a gesture of dedication to his newly elected position, Joe DeMarco, Vice President of Social Affairs, today announced his plans to personally provide entertainment for the Loyola student body.

"My first step in providing quality entertainment will be a comedy act I've worked up with Joanna Cinelli. I call it DeMarco and Dummy."

The ventriloquist act, which is scheduled to appear in the Rat on Saturday, April 26 at 8 p.m., features Cinelli in the latest of her comic roles as the team's funny (wo)man.

When asked why he chose Ms. Cinelli as his partner, DeMarco explained, "After seeing the kind of response she got as an ASLC candidate, I knew she was the only one for the job."

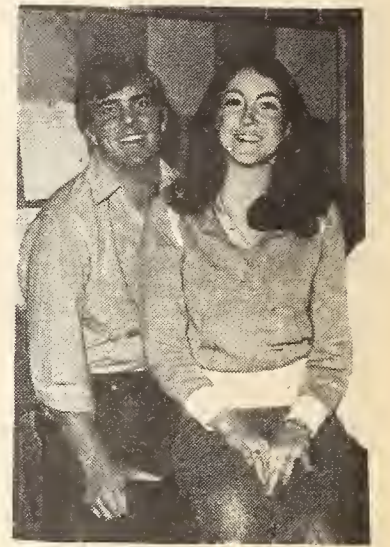

The act includes DeMarco drinking a glass of water while Ms. Cinelli sings, "Send in the Clams," a series of dazzling knock-knock jokes and a number of 360-degree head turns performed by Cinelli with amazing alacrity.

While Mr. DeMarco has achieved quality in the act, its originality has been surpassed in ASLC history by the one man team of Brian O'Neill who played both straight man and dummy.

Nevertheless, Mr. DeMarco expressed satisfaction in the expertise of the partnership. In fact, remarked DeMarco, "If our first gig goes well on the 26th, we may take the act on the road."

Ms. Cinelli was unable to comment.

In response to the team of DeMarco and Dummy, other ASLC members expressed interest in presenting their talents to the Loyola community. Among the scheduled performers are: Magician Mark Evelius and his disappearing money trick with his lovely and lithesome assistant, Kevin Michno and Georgie the Clown.

ASLC social affairs V.P., Joe DeMarco and partner Joanna Cinelli demonstrate skit from their newly formed ventriloquist act. (The dummy is the one the right. Don't be fooled by the dumb expression; Joe always looks that way.)

☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆

Joe Jagielski: A tribute

UP CLOSE AND PERSONAL—(nothing new for Joe). Former ASLC president Joe Jagielski kisses his position goodbye.

The Greyhound would just like to say a few words about departing ASLC president, Joe Jagielski.

Joe has done a fantastic job as ASLC president. He has worked well with his fellow officers and with members of the administration while doing his best for Loyola's student body.

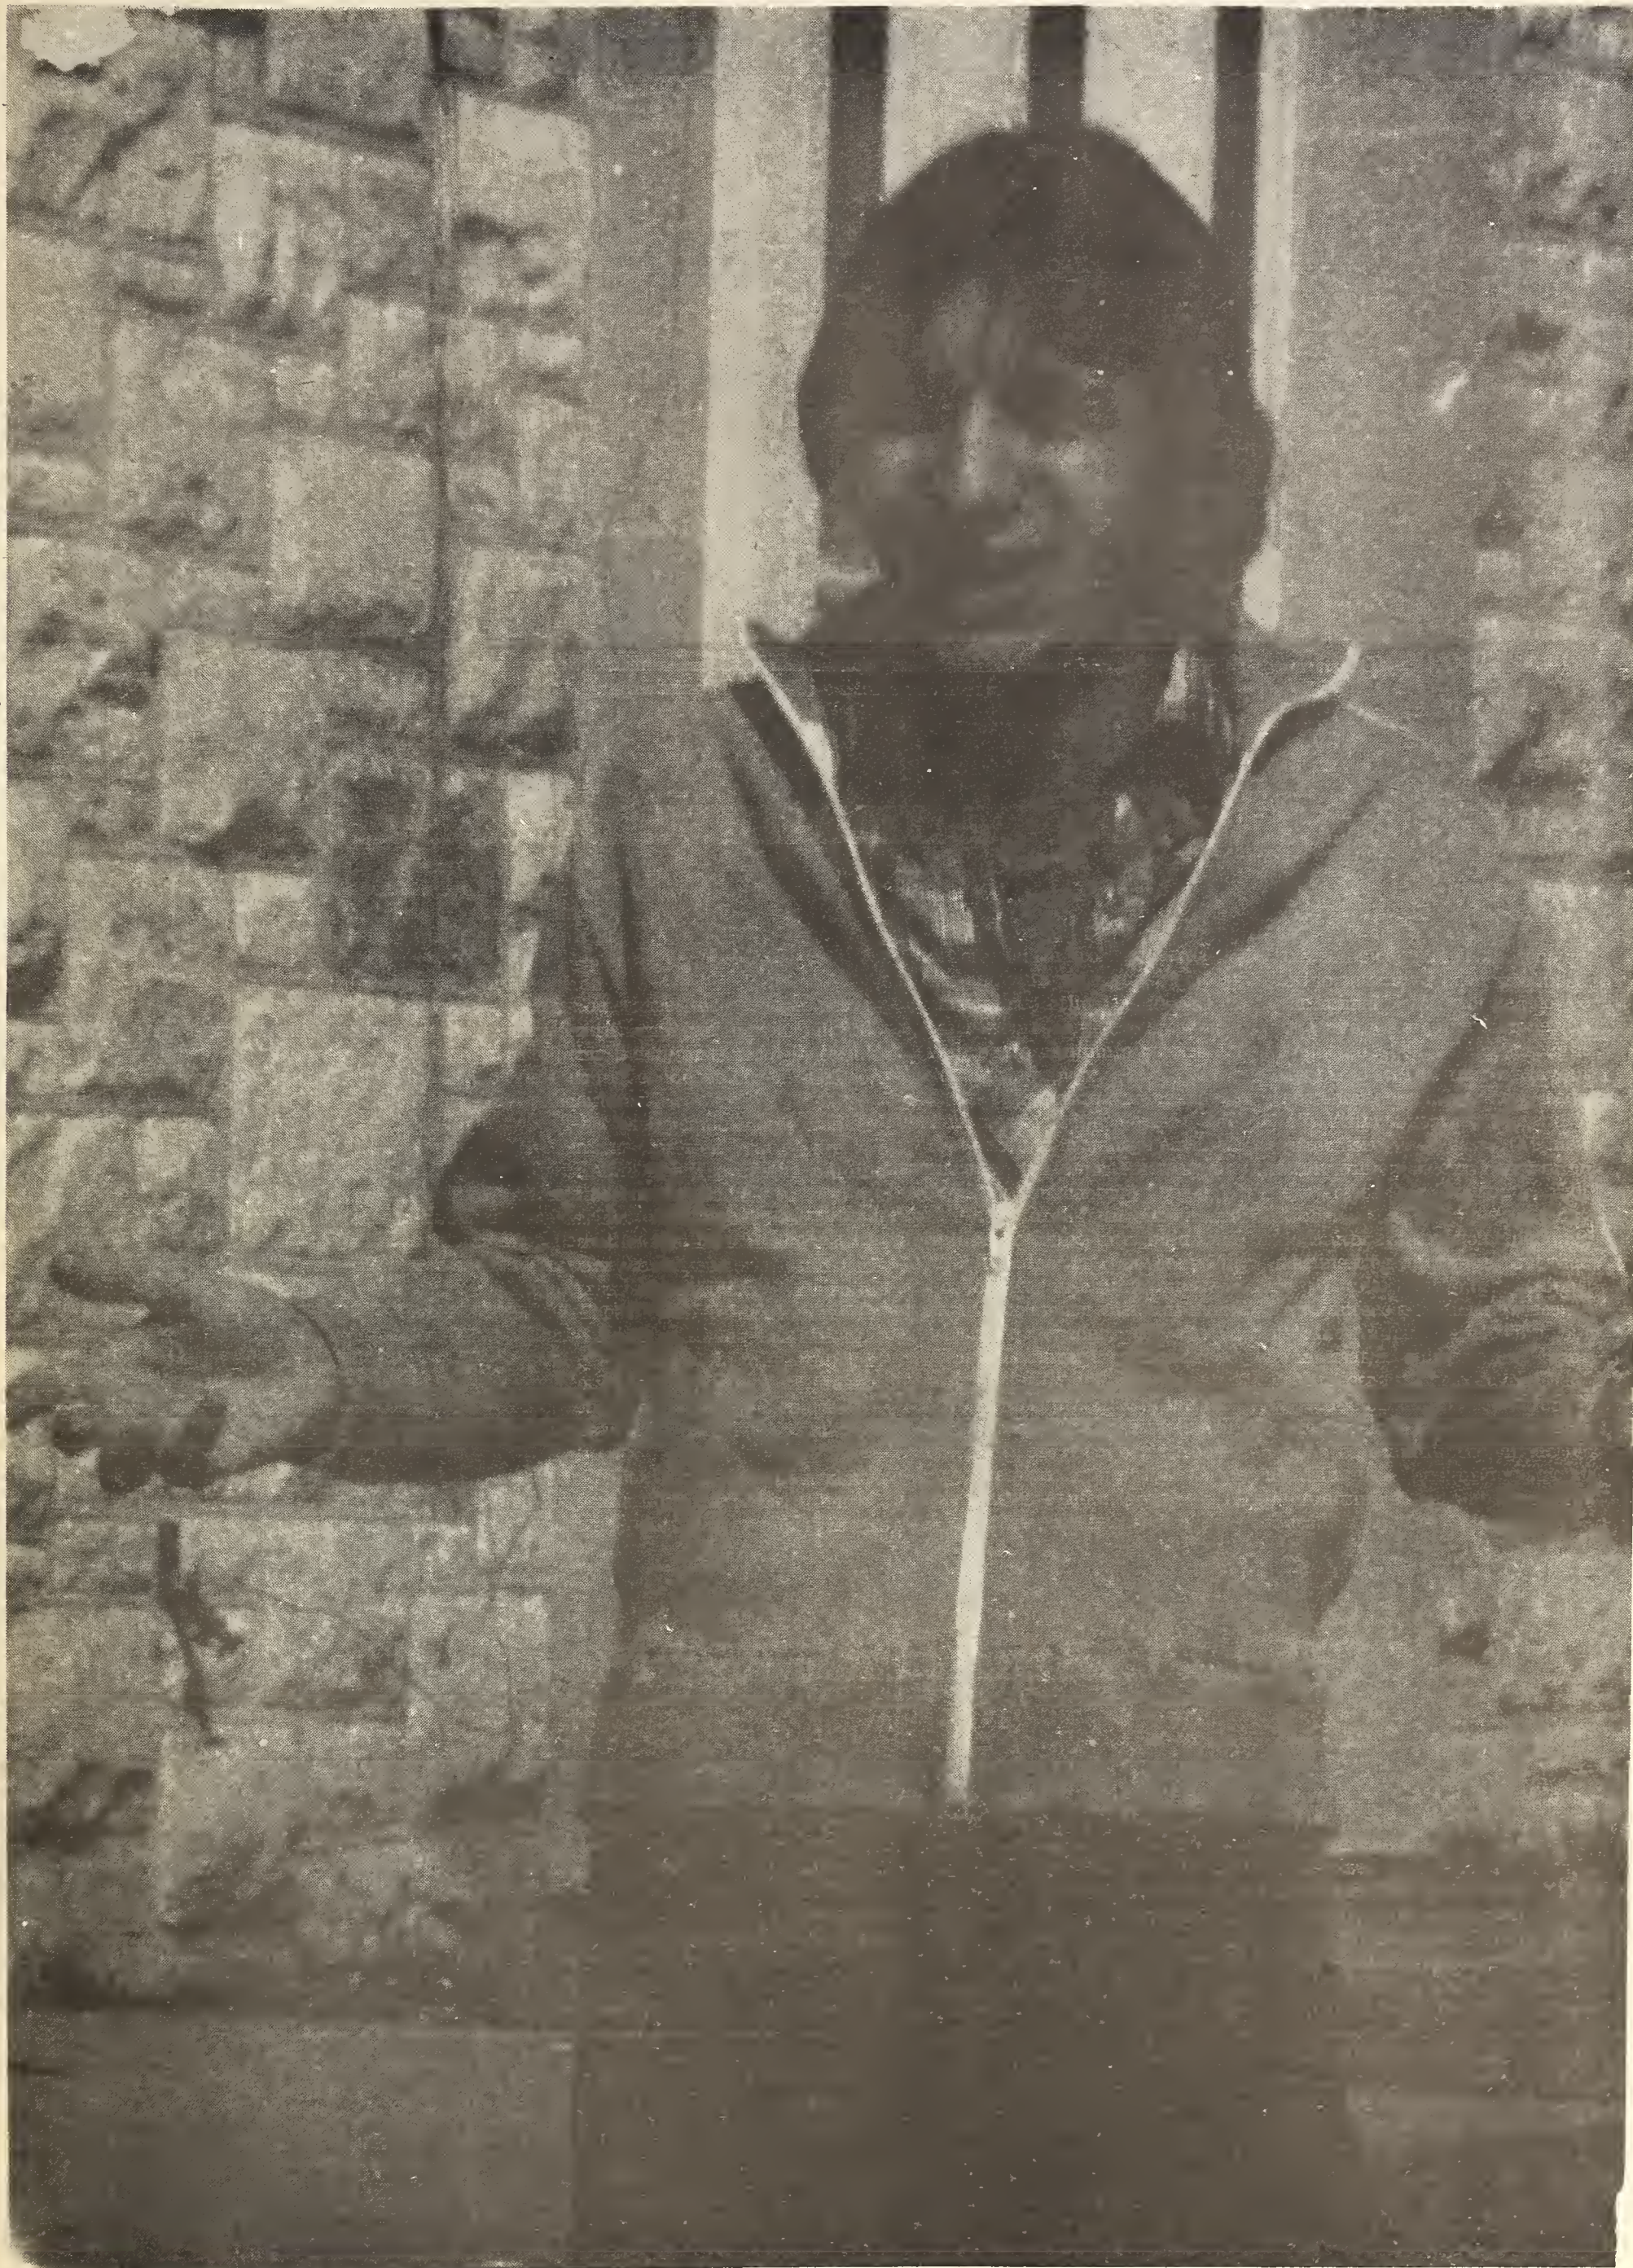

Joe regularly attended all ASLC meetings and get togethers, and shepherded his colleagues into planning the extensive events for the student which we have seen this year. Joe even moved on campus this year "to be close to the students."

Of course it has not been easy. Joe has put in many late nights trying to improve the school. Meanwhile his homework was often postponed until Friday and Saturday nights, ruining his social life.

"It was rough," said Joe with a sigh, "but it was worth it."

What can we say? It will be difficult for Joe's successor to fill the shoes of this dedicated public servant. Joe, we salute you

☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆

Mr. Joe Kufera 1980 Jan term director

Greyhound Mr. January 1980

ATTENTION PHILOSOPHY MAJORS:

Q. Why is Bacon so respected?

A. Because Bacon is the best thing that ever happened to a cheeseburger.

And you can save 30¢ when you buy our brand-new bacon cheeseburger.

We're pretty sure that Bacon didn't write Shakespeare after all. But then he didn't invent Roy Rogers bacon cheeseburger either. It takes a real imagination to top our perfect cheeseburger with crisp, delicious bacon.

Nevertheless, even Bacon would approve of our offer. For a limited time only when you buy one bacon cheeseburger, we'll give you 30¢ off. But, Sir Francis still can't take credit for our bacon cheeseburger. So why's it named after him?

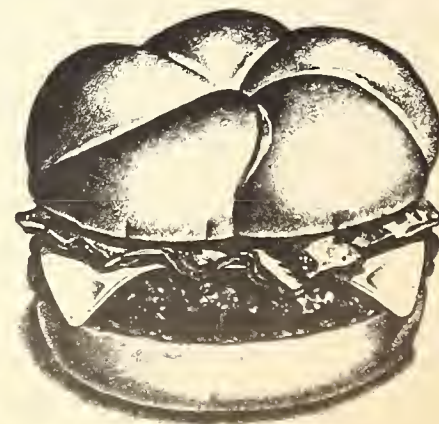

Roy Rogers
Real good fast food

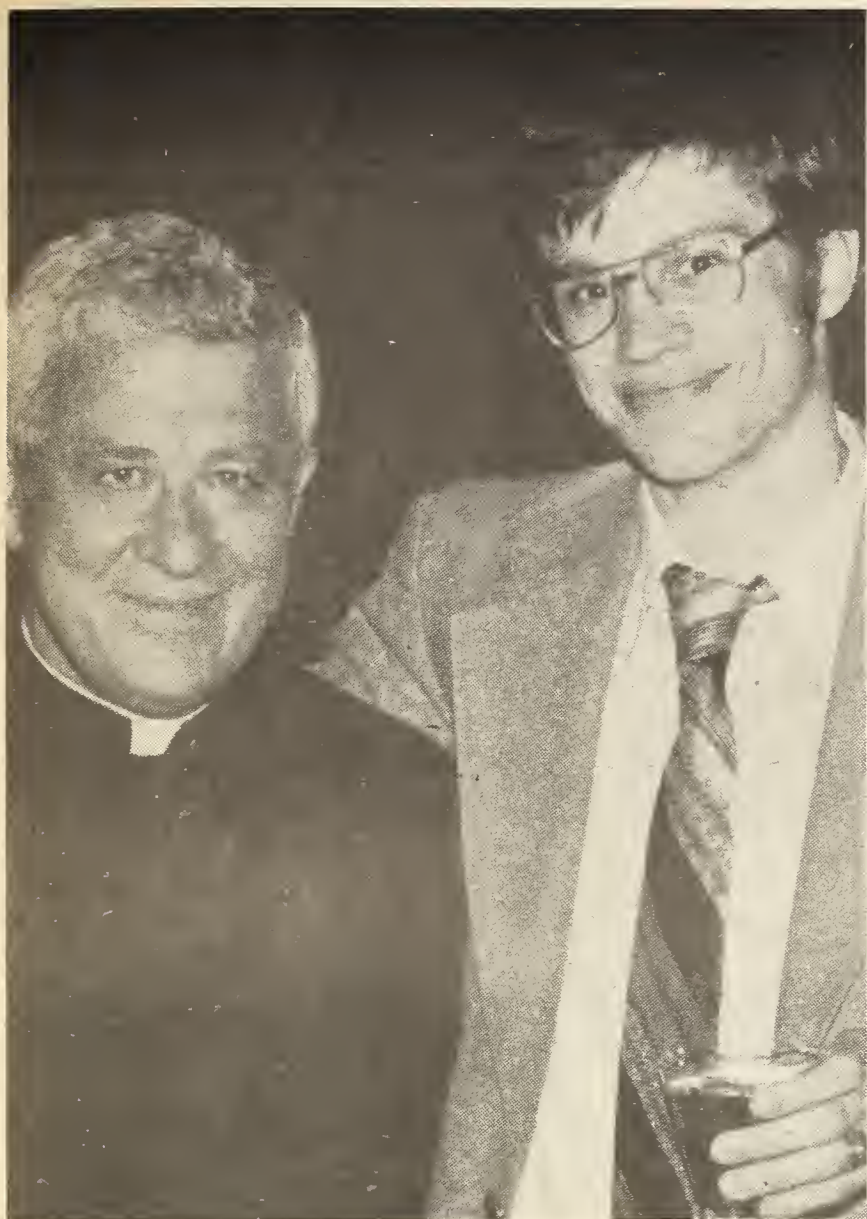

(Clip out and bring in.)

Absolutely! I want to save 30¢ when I buy Roy Rogers brand-new bacon cheeseburger.

At all participating Roy Rogers.
This coupon good through April 27, 1980.
One per customer. Void where prohibited.
Cash value 1/60¢.

Roy Rogers

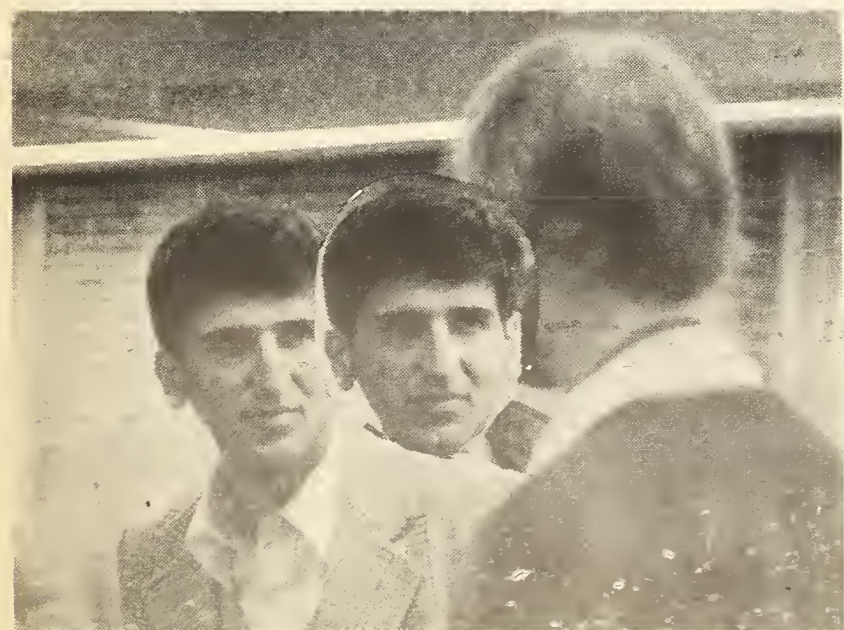

Father and Son

A campus policeman explains to Fr. Sellinger that his tires were blocked because he was illegally parked.
Fr. Sellinger explains to the campus policeman that he's fired.

Controversy brews concerning the validity of George Andrews election to the ASLC presidency due to the discovery of at least 16 George Andrews clones. Seen here is actual evidence of just such a clone as photographed by GREYHOUND.

Evergreen Players to present Shakespeare's The Tempest

Friday, March 28 8 pm

Saturday, March 29 8 pm

Sunday, March 30 2 pm & 8 pm

FORUM

letters to the editors

Dear Editor,

It has been brought to my attention that there actually are people wandering around the cafeteria while we dogs try to eat. That is intolerable. Now don't get me wrong, some of my best friends are humans (and vice versa) by it disgusts me to see them snivelling around begging for food while licking my paws. Keep the humans out of the cafeteria.

affectionately
Zoro

The Greyhound

Egghead-in-chief.....	Cris Caughtintheact
News Egghead.....	Goddamn Ferchland
Assistant News Egghead.....	M. I.V.E.R.S.O.N.
Features Egghead.....	Will O'Brian?
Assistant Features Egghead.....	Sylvania Ace-video
Egghead Page Egghead.....	Lauren Sodomy
Sports Egghead.....	Ron Layher
Photography Egghead.....	Linda Welts
Business/ad Egghead.....	Brest o' Kimble
Sunvisor.....	Dr. Robert Piston

THE GREYHOUND is published weekly during the school year by the students of Loyola College. The writing, layout, pictures and format are the responsibility of the board of editors and do not necessarily represent the views of the administration, faculty and students of the college unless specifically stated. Signed columns represent the opinions of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the editorial position of this newspaper.

Correspondence should be addressed to 4501 North Charles St., Baltimore, Maryland 21210, telephone, 323-1010, ext. 352.

Letters to the editor may be left in the Greyhound mailbox located by the ASLC offices in the student center, sent through inter-campus mail to the Greyhound, or dropped off at the Greyhound office. All letters must be signed; names may be withheld upon request.

The Great Greyhound Playmate Hunt

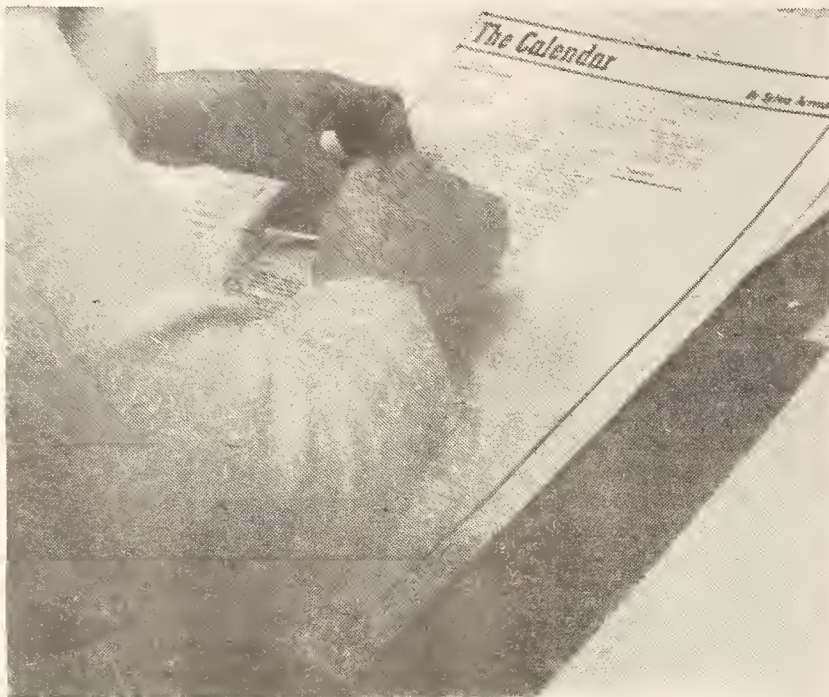

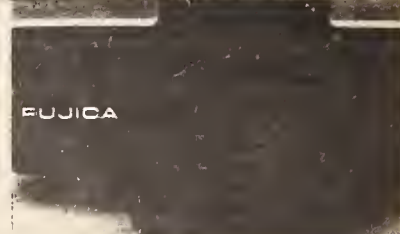

Name: Bill O'Brien
Nationality: Hammermanian
Ambitions: Lauren, Lauren, and more Lauren (This one was ridiculously easy).
Turn-Ons: Milk & Donuts; Guys in uniform, himself in a uniform, Lauren in a uniform, Lauren out of uniform, Lauren etc.
People he'd like to meet: GI Lauren, Not Michael White. The Three Stooges.
Fantasies: Lauren

Name: Chris Kaltenbach
Address: Greyhound/WLCR.
Phone number: Nobody wants it. (Do You?)
Sex: He Tries!
Birthdate: Would like to date.
Sign: Detour.
Education: George Andrews' School of Diplomacy.
Ambitions: To finish this damn issue; to get out of being Greyhound editor.
References: Do you know who his father is? (Neither does he).
Interest/Hobbies: Chris has five cats (which all female members of the staff have been invited to see).
Favorite film: Chris has never seen an entire film.

Name: Linda Welsh.
Address: Behind the camera.
Sign: Prefers Aquarians, but isn't choosy.
Nationality: 20 exposures.
Bust, Waist, Hips: Still developing.

Qualifications: She's the only photographer we have (you should see some the pictures she's taken!)
Goal/Ambition: to get out from behind the camera.
People she'd like to meet: the elves at the Fotomate store.

Name: Sylvia Acavedo.
Birthdate: Any day now.
Sign: Handle with Care.
Nationality: Only her hairdresser knows for sure.

Ambition: to have a ten page calendar in the Greyhound.
Turn-Ons: Doritos, Food runs, Learning how to layout (pages).
Fantasies: Responses to her Calendar.

Name: Vesta Kimble
Bust: Privileged information.
Waist: Not totally, but getting there
Hips: Consult Physical Plant
Sign: Men Working
Turn-Ons: The 1980 Census (Body Count)
Favorite Drink: White Wine (By the Jug)
People She'd like to meet: Her teachers; Earnest & Julio Gallo; Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman

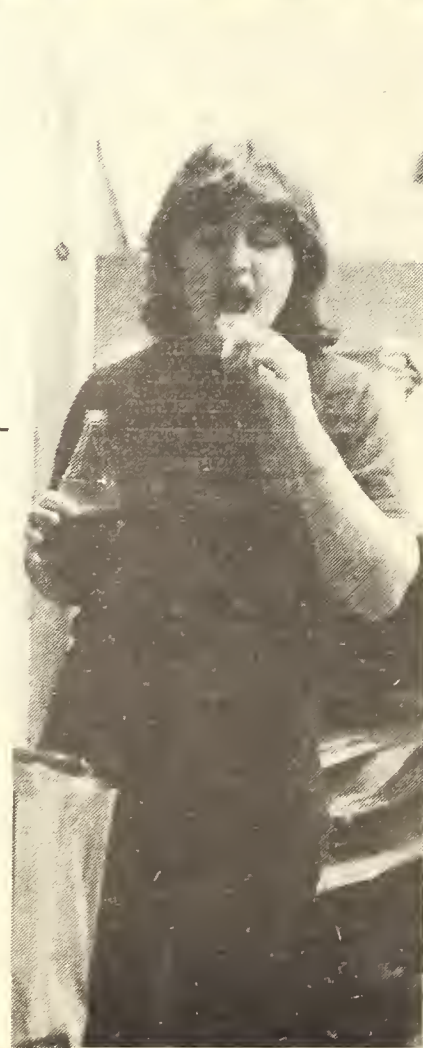

Name: Ron Leahy
Bust: Working on it.
Waist: Of Time.
Hips: Shoots from between.
Sign: Slippery When Wet
Birthdate: Was definitely not born yesterday.
Ambitions: to avoid striking out, to throw a good screwball without slipping off the rubber; to become as adept at double plays and triple plays as he is at four plays.
References: The Girls' Field Hockey Team, Basketball Team, Lacrosse Team, and Volleyball Team, Mrs. McCloskey.

Name: Joanne M. Ferchland
Major: Pre-Wed.
Birth-date: Joanne no longer dates.
Turn-Offs: It has not yet been discovered how to turn Joanne off.
People She'd like to meet: Anyone not on the Greyhound staff; the 7th fleet.
Fantasies: Having an Assistant News Editor who can spell.

Name: Lauren Somody
Address: Common campus knowledge.
Phone number: Ask any male member of the Greyhound staff.
Sex: Definitely.
Birthdate: Lauren does date, (Boy does she date!); however, she tries to avoid giving birth.
Sign: Dangerous curves.
Ambition: Bill, Bill, and more Bill
Education: John Paul Rosasco II School of Journalism; Miss Sally's Romper Room; Mr. Roger's Neighborhood.
Qualifications: Ability to put up with Rosasco's shit.
Hobbies/Interests: See Sex.
References: See Baltimore telephone booth walls, the bartender at the President's Ball, Bill

Name: M. Filip Iverson
Birth-date: Phil does not date, neither does he give birth.
Ambitions: To achieve mediocrity; to teach the backstroke to every Freshman girl on camps.
Turn-Ons: Flexing his muscular back, watching his muscular back, misspelling his muscular back, etc. his muscular back.
People he'd like to meet: Jocko The Clown, Aldo Cella (He knows what women like).
Places he'd like to see: The inside of any room in Hammerman.

Name: Dr. Robert Lidston
Address: The Baltimore Zoo
Phone number: unlisted to students.
Age: Well, he belongs to the over 30 Club.
Education: Life's School of Hard Knocks.
Sign: Do not enter.
Ambition: To edit a real newspaper.
References: Chosen at random from a Baltimore City phone book.
Qualifications: Never reads the Greyhound; lets us do whatever we want.

